BIG ATTENDANCE AT W.I. MEETING

"For Home and Country"

The regular monthly meeting of the Mountain View W.I. met at the beautiful country home of Mrs. L. B. Fulkerth, with an attendance of about 70 members and visitors.

Each was given a warm welcome by the genial hostess. Her cheerfulness seemed to permeate the whole house and became contagious.

Mrs. Ed. Blain was program convener, Agriculture being her subject.

The winners of the two contests staged were Mrs. Arden Deadrick and Mrs. Haynes. They were keenly contested and much interest was shown.

Following the program the hostess served a dainty two course luncheon. Cakes of various names served included Angel food, Devil's food, Sunshine and others too numerous to mention. Needless to say all enjoyed the lunch. Those who served were Misses Helen Mullen and Lillian Tyler and Mrs. J. Fulkerth.

Everyone spent a very happy afternoon, deciding that Mrs. Fulkerth was a royal entertainer. All were reluctant to leave the summer like atmosphere of the spacious rooms and the green foliage of the numerous house plants.

The Institute is looking forward to a meeting again in this modern and artistically decorated home.

Large Acreage Ready For Crop

Acreage ready for 1929 crop in Alberta amounts to 3,652,599 acres according to the report issued during the past week by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This includes 2,732,599 acres of summerfallow and 850,000 acres of new breaking. As compared with the previous year, these figures show an increase of 100,000 acres of new breaking and a decrease of 112,274 acres of summerfallow. It is estimated, however, that the amount of fall plowing done in 1928 considerably exceeds that of 1927 so that on the whole, Alberta will this year have in readiness for crop the largest acreage of any year in its history.

Burnside Notes

Harold Metz returned Saturday from High River where he has been spending the winter.

Messrs. Ralph Long and Ernest Simmonds who have spent the winter at Joe Clark's, left last week for Aeme where they have positions for the summer.

Don't forget the W. I. Hard Times dance, on April 12th, in the Lone Pine hall.

A goodly crowd of neighbors and friends turned out last Thursday evening to chivaree Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McCulloch. The latter part of the evening was spent in games and dancing in the Lone Pine hall.

Mr. Bert Richardson left last week to take his old position at Vancouver Island.

Quite a few trucks from this district are hauling gas from the Turner Valley oil wells.

Miss Edith Cipperly left on Monday to spend the summer with her uncle near Olds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pross and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jenkins.

Messrs. H. A. Pearson and H. Olsen attended the funeral of the Fred Deal at Aeme on Friday last.

DIED

On Tuesday, March 26th, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Russell. The funeral services were conducted from the United Church, Westcott, Wednesday, March 27th, Rev. H. E. Roppel officiating. Interment in the Westcott cemetery.

The tennis season is fast approaching and a meeting of racquet enthusiasts will be called as soon as arrangements can be made.

WESTCOTT LITERARY HOLDS FINAL MEET

The Westcott Literary and Musical Society held their last meeting for the winter Friday evening last, March 23rd. We had a splendid program. The decision of the judges in debate on the new School Act was in favor of the affirmative. It was noticeable in one of the debaters that the cream prescription given in the "Observer" was bearing fruit.

Last year we gave $20 to the Union Cemetery for whatever improvements which might be deemed necessary. Our president felt it was necessary to urge the Cemetery Committee to do something with this money this year.

The plan of having different members responsible for a certain program and same being able to obtain their help from nearby neighbors, has been a great success. It not only relieves the President, but also does away with so much time being spent in traveling to rehearse, which is a consideration in the country during the winter months. We are indebted to Jackson Garfield, Clovermount, and our Rugby neighbors for their very kind assistance this winter, and hope to all meet again in the future.

Mr. F. H. Hayslett will leave on Saturday for Appledale, B.C., to join his wife and family.

Mrs. T. Brown is spending a few days at the home of her parents at Camrose.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boorman when they and their family entertained a number of friends with a musical evening.

One Nation, Two Cultures

The Dominion of Canada is a great heritage. It has many great problems to solve in order to achieve its destiny. Before Governments and people can successfully cope with these problems the citizenship of the Dominion must become imbued with, fully accept, and earnestly practice the "Spirit of Confederation" which animated the leaders in the public life of this country sixty odd years ago. The names and memories of the Fathers of Confederation are held in honor, not only for what they achieved, but because of the true patriotism expressed through real sacrifice by which union became an accomplished fact.

It is no light matter to speak of the Spirit of Confederation. It was a very real thing. It breathes through every utterance of the men who found it necessary to sink political differences, submerge personal views and convictions, abandon policies dear to their hearts, and accept compromises falling short of what they desired. But they did it, knowing that only so could disaster for British and Canadian interests be averted and the future of the northern half of the continent under the British flag be assured. It was this spirit which alone made Confederation possible and carried it successfully through the stormy early years.

This same spirit is just as vitally necessary in the life of Canada today as it ever was in the past. Without it the Dominion could not have had its being; without it the Dominion cannot continue to exist.

The great challenge which Canada presents to the world at large, and, of course, most vitally of all to her own people, is not in the material realm of trade and commerce, but in the spirit of the people of the Dominion composed as they are of two great races, two distinct forms of religion, speaking two languages, and the product of two cultures. Canada's challenge to the world is to be found in our success or failure to consistently live up to the Spirit of Confederation and make it a living vitality in the life of the Dominion. This is Canada's challenge to the world because the issues of world peace or war are wrapped up in the solution or exactly similar problems in the nations of Europe and across the Pacific.

The problem before the Fathers of Confederation was whether the existence of two races, two languages, two cultures in Canada was an insurmountable obstacle to the creation of a single united nation, and whether such a nation could exist on the basis of that fact. Their decision was that such a nation could exist, and they laid down the formula in the British North America Act. Confederation became an accomplished fact, and it has not only survived but progressed and grown to an amazing extent.

There is one Canadian of French race and language for every two Canadians of English race and language. How shall both feel that common love for home and soil which is the soul of nationality? Both races have traditions, a past of their own. On what principle and to what ends may both races have a common national future?

These vital questions cut clean through the whole of our national life today, just as they did prior to and at the time of Confederation. Shall the people of Canada, with so vast an estate to develop in common, with so great a part to play in elevating the quality of living, and so noble an opportunity awaiting them alike in the British Empire and in the sphere of international relations, always be faced with the menace of racial discord, of attacks by one race on the integrity of the other, of recourse to embittered discussion of rights that should be secure, or wrongs that should have been corrected, when scores of social and economic problems are crying out for solution? Race is like a car left with its engine running. The slightest touch will put it in gear and set it speeding towards some bitter accident.

In the nineteenth century Lord Durham's policy was the "obliteration" of the French-Canadian. The policy of the Fathers of Confederation was the recognition of the identity of both races, both languages, both religions, both cultures. Their ideal was one nation, two cultures; one nationality, two languages; one loyalty, two races.

Which policy was practical? To obliterate a whole people, or to form a nationality in which the identity of two peoples might be secure, free, developing? The Fathers of Confederation had the only practical policy, the only policy that would ensure peace, make the progress of Canada possible, and establish a new nationality in British North America.

Creatures Of Habit

We are unreasonable animals many of us. The person who sputters like a hot tea kettle because he is required to button his garment every morning and unbutton it every night—day after day, month after month, year after year—a long and dreary round of monotony walls like a fire siren when one little button comes off.

Can See Two Oceans

The inhabitants of Costa Rica say that the only place commanding a view of the Atlantic and Pacific ocean is the summit of Mount Irazu, situated in Cartago Province. The mountain is 12,600 feet high, and the Costa Ricans assert that on a clear day it is not difficult to see the waters of both oceans with the naked eye.

Guard Against FLU — Sore Throat The First Warning.

Few families will escape. This epidemic constitutes a real danger. Health authorities everywhere warn the public of the danger of the common cold, "Flu" usually starts with Sore Throat. Unless the germs are killed by some antiseptic treatment a serious malady may develop.

A simple treatment is to gargle the throat three times daily with Nerviline. The antiseptic properties of Nerviline quickly destroy the germs in the throat. Of course if the chest is sore Nerviline should be rubbed over the affected area—lots of rubbing—it can't burn a blister, but will bring out the congestion and break up the cold.

To prevent "Flu" or colds from gaining headway Nerviline will prove most effective. It is hardly necessary to point out that the bowels should be stimulated, and the system purged of all waste materials. For this purpose Dr. Hamilton's Pills are recommended. They act without griping or discomfort of any kind. This combination treatment of Nerviline and Dr. Hamilton's Pills will prove a very satisfactory prevention for Grippe, Flu, etc.

Sure Of Hoover's Support

League Of Nations Has Good Friend In U.S. President

What stand will President Hoover take in regard to United States cooperation with the League of Nations? Supporters of the League, while they have practically abandoned any hope that the States will become an active member of the League, feel that in Mr. Hoover they have the strongest support of its policies since the regime of President Wilson.

They base this belief on the fact that in 1919, President Hoover was an urgent advocate of United States entry into the League and that while bound by loyalty to his party to take an opposite point of view he will always remain at heart a strong protagonist of League ideals.

It cannot be said that League supporters felt they had a genuine friend in Mr. Coolidge. Practical ignorance or tepid acquiescence was all that could be expected from the former chief executive. Always he appeared to be dominated by the small town point of view of the narrowest type of American in his dealing with the League and constitutionally he seemed incapable of thinking on an international plane.

While the new president is also bound by party considerations it is believed that by every means in his power he will strive to represent that sizable minority in his country who fervently advocate closer co-operation with the League in maintaining world security.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM RHEUMATISM

For Relief You Must Reach the Root Of The Trouble In the Blood

Sufferers from rheumatism who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using other remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The tonic treatment with this medicine has proved in thousands of cases that it builds up the blood to a point that enables it to cast out the rheumatic poisons through the regular channels, the bowels, kidneys and the skin. When this is done rheumatism is banished and as long as the blood is kept pure and rich there will be no return of the trouble.

That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do what is claimed for them is proved by the case of Mrs. Ette A. Muma, Sarnia, Ont., who says:—"I was a helpless invalid for a year with inflammatory rheumatism. I had medical treatment and took mineral baths, but with no result. Naturally I felt utterly discouraged, and was suffering greatly. Then one day I read in a local paper of a case similar to mine, in which great praise was given to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to give this medicine a trial. It is now with the greatest pleasure I write to tell you that in less than two months after starting the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was able to get up and walk about as well as ever I did. I can never praise these pills too highly and I hope that in making my experience public it may benefit some other sufferer."

A very useful book "Building Up The Blood," will be sent free on request by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price, 50c. a box. Try them today.

PROOF OF DYES is in the dyeing!

Words won't dye a dress, or coat, or sweater. It takes real anilines to do that. That's why Diamond Dyes contain from three to five times more anilines than any other dye—by actual test. It's the anilines in Diamond Dyes that do the work; that give the colors such brilliancy; such depth and permanence. It's real aniline that keeps them from giving things that red-dyed look; from spotting or streaking.

Next time you have dyeing to do, try Diamond Dyes. Then compare results. See how soft, bright, new-looking the colors are. Observe how they keep their brilliancy. Your dealer will refund your money if you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

MARSHAL FOCH SUCCUMBS AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Paris.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch, famous generalissimo who led the allied armies to victory in the great war, died at his home after a lengthy illness. He was 77 years old.

Although it had long been apparent that the great general was fighting his "last campaign," his warrior heart would not give in and day after day he fought off the inevitable end with grim courage, but a combination of heart trouble, kidney disease and a lung infection were too great at his age.

On February 26, the Associated Press was authoritatively informed that the marshal's death seemed only a matter of days—a week, perhaps, or ten days. But the marshal with indomitable will, held off death even longer than his doctors thought possible. It was sudden collapse of his heart after several days of improvement that brought death to the intrepid warrior.

"The foremost fighter in the great war," displayed in illness the same grit that he had displayed as the commander-in-chief who led the allied armies to victory in the great war.

The national funeral accorded him is the sixth in the history of France. The five men who were previously so honored were: Presidents Carnot and Faure; Pasteur, the scientist; Gambetta, the statesman; and Victor Hugo, the poet.

No Disarmament Conference This Year

Earliest Possible Date Will Be Spring Of 1930

Geneva.—League of Nations circles have informed the press that there will be no possibility of holding a general disarmament conference this year.

The earliest date it was declared at which such a conference can be convened will be the spring of 1930, but it is more than probable that it will be well along in the fall before it can be held.

This delay is due purely to the present lack of progress in the preparation for the conference.

It will be necessary it was pointed out that the League's Preparatory Disarmament Commission must have at least two more sessions before agreement can be reached on a draft project for a general disarmament convention.

Seeding In Peace River

Ten Acres Of Wheat Seeded On March Nineteenth

Edmonton, Alta.—A special to the Journal from Spirit River, in the Peace River country, says: The Blueberry settlement, twenty-five miles west of Spirit River, has the rest of the country shaded for early seeding. Jack Burrows, a rancher of Blueberry, seeded ten acres to Marquis wheat, March 19th. This is believed to be the earliest seeding on record in the North.

Work on the land in Edmonton district got off to a start on March 19, when a large dice swung into action on the provincial government farm at Oliver. This is said to be one of the earliest starts on the land in ten years.

Earl Arrives At Castle

Southampton, England.—Amid lusty cheers from employees of the estate and fusillades of fog signals exploded by a truck pushed along the railway line, the "rancher earl," from Alberta, tenth Earl of Egmont, and his son, Viscount Percival, arrived at the family seat, Avon Castle, in Hampshire.

Important Land Deal

Springwater, Sask.—An important land deal has been completed here with the sale by R. H. Bourk, of 15 sections of farm land to a party of Mennonites. The purchase price is said to be around $90,000. Mr. Bourk is a prominent farmer of this district, having come here in pioneer days.

Discussing Amount and Duration Of Annuities

Committee Makes Good Start At Reparations Key Problem

Paris.—The experts committee on reparations is making a good start at its key problem—the amount and duration of annuities with which Germany's debt will be paid.

Discussion is strictly semi-official, however, and there are still wide gaps between the hopes and claims of the different parties. But there is a spirit of conciliation in the air which seemed to justify an optimistic outlook on deliberations which soon may reach a plenary session of the committee.

France was credited with the intention of claiming ten billion marks (about $2,500,000) of an immediate payment which Germany is expected to make.

Belgium, it is stated, will ask reimbursement of six billion marks for alleged worthless forged German currency which the German invaders left behind.

Great Britain's claims in the first payment are expected to total about four billion marks (about $1,000,000,000). It is understood that Great Britain will claim that previous agreements do not apply to the claims of the dominion and that she expects further to be reimbursed now for what has already been paid the United States on the war debt account.

Long Search Rewarded

Father Finds Son Stolen About Forty Years Ago

Kansas City, Kansas.—Forty years of search, his life and fortune spent in quest of the babe, his boy who was kidnapped from a cradle, was rewarded when A. A. Wilhite, 60, was reunited with his son, F. H. Bixler.

The son, now 41 years of age, is a prosperous farmer of Kent, Ohio. His mother died at his birth.

The child's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Lewis, ran away with the boy from their home in Emporia, Kansas. A man named Alfred Bixler disappeared from Emporia at the same time. The boy grew up with the name of Bixler.

Danube River Overflows Banks

Families Lose Everything In Worst Flood Since 1872

Bratislava, Czechoslovakia.—Thousands of families along the right bank of the Danube have been bereft of their homes, cattle and other belongings by the worst flood since 1873.

The great river, which is choked with millions of tons of thawing ice, was rising steadily and threatened further disaster.

Church bells tolled along its 1,800 miles length, warning dwellers near its banks to flee for their lives.

A Million Dollar Prize

Shanghai, China.—A three-cornered contest among wind and waves, Japanese salvagers and hundreds of Chinese pirates for a prize valued at more than $1,000,000, is taking place off the China Coast, eighty miles from Shanghai, within the Yangtse estuary. The prize consists of the North German Lloyd steamer "Geissen" which was wrecked on the treacherous Button Rock.

Alberta House Prorogues

Edmonton, Alta.—The third session of the sixth Legislature came to a close here, March 20, at 5:45 o'clock after His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor William Egbert had consented in the name of His Majesty the King, to the passage of a large number of bills and had formally accepted on behalf of His Majesty the supply granted the House.

Horses Win Against Turtle

Port Arthur, Tex.—Fisherman A. Wiltz hitched four horses to a seine and dragged a 1,350 pound turtle from the Gulf of Mexico. The turtle whose protective shell had been cut, perhaps by a ship's propeller, put up a hard fight before the horses finally won. It was estimated to be more than 300 years old.

Prince Decorated By Master Mariners

Receives Temporary Insignia Of Office While Regular One Is Being Made

London, England.—The Prince of Wales at the annual banquet of the Master Mariners, was adorned with a temporary insignia of office, an ornate badge and chain, while the actual insignia in gold and jewels is being made. It was the first meeting in his official capacity with the body to which the King last year appointed him "master."

Cabinet ministers, ambassadors, and many prominent men were present.

The prince, after an allusion to the presence of the high commissioners of the Dominions, announced amid cheers of proposal to make the company an imperial body by increasing its membership by one-hundred. All of the new members had been master mariners resident in the Dominions. The prince said he regarded the proposal as a very important move and one which would serve as a great imperial link.

Says Doukhobors Are Not Communists

Look On World As One Community States Peter Veregin

Winnipeg.—Stating that communism, so-called, was nothing but a "changing of seats," Peter Veregin, spiritual head of the Christian community of all Doukhobors, asserted in an interview here that Doukhobors were not communists in the accepted sense of the term.

They looked upon all the world as one community, headed by Christ, and looked upon the country in which they were a community unit.

Mr. Veregin declared that it had not been Doukhobors, but Russians living on the borders of the Christian community and wrongly considered members of it, that had been involved in trouble with educational authorities in British Columbia.

Trains Meet In Head-On Collision

Nineteen Meet Death In Train Wreck In Ontario

Parry Sound, Ont.—Through an unexplained mistake in the interpretation of orders, two crack Canadian National Railway transcontinental express trains loaded with sleeping passengers crashed head-on at Droucourt, a siding 46 miles north of here.

Members of train crews met death when the heavy engines and the baggage cars of the trains were telescoped and passengers in a colonist car on the west-bound train were burned to death, some before the eyes of helpless trainmen and passengers.

Some of the dead may never be identified owing to the fierceness with which the flames devoured all within the car.

Railway officials estimate that 19 persons were killed, though late tonight but six of these, all members of the train crews, were listed among the identified dead.

The passengers burned to death in the colonist car are believed to have been mostly immigrants bound for new homes in the West. Many of them were without relatives or friends in the Dominion.

The colonist car which caught fire was of wooden construction. This type of car is fitted with a stove which passengers are allowed to use for preparation of their meals during the long journey from the seaboard to the prairie provinces. The interior of these cars is wooden. It is believed that the crash overturned the stove and the car took fire from the coals which were spilled out.

The passengers, many of them asleep in their berths when the trains crashed, were caught without means of escape. Emergency trains were sent out from divisional points when news of the disaster was flashed out. The injured were placed aboard and rushed to hospital here. Some died en route.

ALBERTA FIGHTS PLAN FOR RETURN OF RESOURCES

Edmonton, Alta.—Protesting that return of the natural resources to Alberta on the same basis as their return by the Dominion government to Manitoba and Saskatchewan would be unfair to Alberta, Premier J. E. Brownlee delivered a lengthy exposition of Alberta's position on the subject in the legislature.

Grounds on which Mr. Brownlee objected to the same settlement of the resources question with Alberta as with Saskatchewan, were outlined by the premier as follows:

The Dominion had made Alberta an offer, including the return of school lands and school lands funds; a settlement of the parks question on the same basis as other provinces and an arrangement that, when the financial considerations ultimately were decided upon there would be a transfer of natural resources with the present subsidy but with no increases.

Railway officials estimate that 19 persons were killed, though late tonight but six of these, all members of the train crews, were listed among the identified dead.

The passengers burned to death in the colonist car are believed to have been mostly immigrants bound for new homes in the West. Many of them were without relatives or friends in the Dominion.

This type of car is fitted with a stove which passengers are allowed to use for preparation of their meals during the long journey from the seaboard to the prairie provinces. Plans Another Trip Over Niagara Falls

French-Canadian Willing To Dare Death A Second Time

Niagara Falls, N.Y.—Jean Lussier, French-Canadian, who successfully made the perilous trip over the falls last summer, encased in a rubber ball, probably will dare death a second time on July 4.

Lussier went over the falls in a specially constructed ball in daylight with more than 75,000 persons witnessing the feat. He was fished from the river two hours after starting his trip by William "Red" Hill, veteran riverman.

Lussier is planning to make the second trip in a vehicle which he calls a "parlor ball." The ball will be six feet in diameter, electrically lighted and so constructed that the occupant will be able to remain upright during the entire journey. It will be heavily padded inside to insure escape from any serious injury.

The action makes the delegation formed of representatives San Francisco branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, a separate entity from the main organization, operating under a state charter.

New Submarine Device

Washington D.C.—The submarine "Lung" device which recently proved successful in tests off the Florida coast is to be furnished to the entire submarine personnel of the navy, it was learned recently. Seven hundred "lungs" have been ordered by the navy for use on its four V-type submarines. Bids for 6,300 more will be called for soon, it was learned.

Million Yearly For Hospitals

Quebec.—Without dissent the Quebec legislative assembly approved a measure introduced by Hon. A. David, provincial secretary, whereby a million dollars a year will be taken from the profits of the Quebec liquor commission and devoted to aiding provincial hospitals.

TREES!A town or city that is not an eyesore should be the ambition of every live body of citizens.Most towns on the prairies are not ideally situated nor endowed with Nature's beauties. Such a state should prove an incentive to those with civic pride to surmount such difficulties. Look what Drumheller is planning. "Beautiful Drumheller" is the aim of that town council. At a meeting of that body recently it was decided to place an order for 270 trees, 110 to be poplar and 160 elms, same to be planted immediately on arrival in barren spots. That body has gone even farther than that. A grant was passed to apply to improve to their West-End Park.Not an ambitious program, but a healthy one. Other towns might well follow the growing Coal City's example, and Didsbury is no exception.Trees, trees! What a monument such assets might be to Didsbury if some local body could just get the plan started. Then an "Arbor Day" might be selected and citizens could help in the planting of a tree or trees in a given spot. Such locations would not be hard to find.Who is going to have the honor of planting that first "tree" in our precincts? not of one seedling, but hundreds!CLEAN UP!There is no "sure sign" of spring, but spring should be a "sure sign" of the arrival of that time for the community to clean up. There is no superstition or prophesying about this clean-up sign.When warm weather has come to stay (until cold weather returns in the autumn) every owner of property and tenant should instinctively feel it his duty to remove the evidences of winter's ravages and to aid and augment nature in her work of rebeautification.Every spring clean-up program should include disposal of winter's accumulation of litter and decayed vegetation, repairing and repainting of buildings, and landscape gardening.
Landscape gardening is no longer associated with large estates alone.Cleanliness about the person or the home costs nothing. A community clean-up need involve no expense, except of a moderate amount of labor on the part of the householders. If there ever were excuses for uncleanliness they were removed long ago.What is the compensation of a community-wide clean-up campaign? It improves the general health of the community by removing deposits that are breeding places of disease germs and disease carrying insects. A clean town is a better place in which to live than one that is unsanitary and unsightly. And the best community advertising is the appearance of being "cleaned-up, painted-up and planted-up."THE HOME TOWNOne can scarcely visit any small city."Such people want to be amused every moment of every day and most of the night in order that they may not have time to reflect on the empty dry husks of their own lives. If ever they find themselves for a moment unamused they see their town as their own lives are empty and lifeless. On the other hand our town may be a little below its possibilities and it may not be the lure of the city that is causing the trouble.A man on visiting a city asylum said to one of the guards "Are you not in danger?" What is to hinder these many insane people from getting together and locking you few guards up?" The guard replied "If these people were wise enough to get together they would not be in this city under guards, but they would be in their homes in the country unguarded." Is there not a home town anywhere that has not some time suffered from a lack of getting together? Social activities, educational interests, and religion, the very things that should unite people too often become walls of separation.When this is the case, the home town becomes unattractive. The young people leave. The older people live most monotonous lives. Many go to the cities to jostle with the altogether too many strap-hangers that are already there. Ninety and nine out of every hundred of these brilliant young folk, with abilities capable of greatness, when once in the city become lost. Often they become costly liabilities.This year let us strive to make the home town: playground, school and church more attractive and more interesting. No home town can afford to spend years in raising crop after crop of young lives for the city to devour and destroy. That is the very poorest kind of business, all going out and nothing coming in. No one gaining in anything. The world is becoming poorer in life and richer in misery.Alberta is great. Overcrowded cities are never marks of greatness in any sense. Alberta's greatness must ever be found among the people who live in her innumerable beautiful rural homes, and in her character and quality of her countless home towns.

When the prodigal came to himself, he thought of what he had left in his home town. Whenever one will stop chasing fraudulent wealth, giddy amusement and empty power long enough to think, one's thoughts willalways come home with a vision of the greatness of life's opportunities, tasks and pleasures that are found at home. The greatest things that God can possibly offer us this year are right at home. Here our tasks. Here our material. Here our joy. If we realize this in 1929 our home town will be one grand happy place throughout the year."Easter" at Ranton's Ltd.*Ladies' and Misses' Coats for

EVANGELICAL NOTES

In keeping with Evangelical custom the Passion Week of Christ from Palm Sunday to Easter is being observed with special services in the church, every evening this week.

Everybody ought to regard this week as Holy Week in remembrance of the sacred and solemn events related to the death of Christ.

Don't forget the Easter cantata to be rendered next Sunday evening. It is very largely a musical makeup of the Easter story with responses by the Junior choir, interspersed with scripture reading and recitations, further visualized with platform scenes becoming the occasion.

10 YEARS AGO

Mr. C. Hiebert, an old-time resident of Didsbury, passed away at his home in Calgary on Thursday, Mar. 18th, 1919 and was buried in Didsbury. Coming here in 1901 he saw Didsbury grow to its present proportions and was the first member for the old Rosebud constituency in the first legislature in Alberta. He built and operated the Bawlf elevator in the early years.

Mr. W. J. Scheidt bought the Sam Troyer farm recently.

Ralph Honey returned from a visit to Dakota on Thursday last. While there his father died.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Plans for zoological gardens on St. George's Island, Calgary, are well advanced, the Calgary Zoological Society already having $15,000 on hand.

Special mention is made in the annual report of the Alberta Government Telephones of a new line to be constructed via Camrose and Alix to Calgary. Providing not only additional facilities, this line will also provide an emergency route in the event of the main line being damaged by storm.

It is of the greatest interest to note in the annual report of the Alberta Red Cross that there has been a phenomenal growth in the Junior Society. Today the membership stands at over 31,000, grouped in branches, large and small, in the schools of the province. This is conclusive proof that Junior Red Cross is filling a great need in the lives of our children. During every day of the year fifty-six children have had treatment by Junior Red Cross, most of the cases being orthopaedic, and requiring long hospitalization. These little ones come from every corner of Alberta, and are sent home cured and educated, as a regular school is maintained in both hospitals.

A start will be made on Alberta's 1929-30 program of highway construction as soon as weather conditions permit, announces Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works. The work to be undertaken will involve an expenditure of some $1,500,000. The graveling of the road between Macleod and Pincher Creek has already been started a number of other projects will be commenced shortly.

When your Children Cry
for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhoea checked. A vegetable product; baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

When Cunarders Carried Cows

Vast Difference Between Past and Present Of Steamship Travel

Amazing facts are given by E. D. Breton, of London, England, who writes of the past and present of steamship travel, and refers to the famous old "Britannia," which was the first steamer to cross the Atlantic on schedule, and which was the product of the imagination of Sir Samuel Cunard, of Halifax, Nova Scotia, founder of the Cunard Line.

For instance: the Britannia was the wonder ship of her day, yet described by the inimitable Charles Dickens as having a saloon "not unlike a gigantic hearse," with sleeping berths comparable only to coffins. Her staff comprised two stewards, a cook, a kind of cabin boy and the navigation crew. She carried a cow abroad to supply fresh milk. Her bathroom would have disgusted any traveller of today, and may have disheartened many prospects of those middle eighties.

Gone is the Britannia. Sir Samuel is gone too. Today the monuments to the man and his crude little steamers are the famous Cunarders which ply across the Atlantic to and from Great Britain, and Europe, and Canada, and the United States, and cruise into the seven seas of the world with their red funnels topped by a black band.

For instance: the world's fastest liner, the Cunarder "Mauretania," voyages along at about 30 miles per hour. The Cunarder "Berengaria" houses 4,000 souls, and carries hundreds of bathrooms for passengers who can either pay the same old Britannia ticket price for accommodation undreamed of in those days, or pay as high as $8,000 for luxury that kings could not get in days gone by. Passengers can now hold swimming parties in the ship's pool, stage balls, or send facetious messages by wireless to friends ashore. They tread on the Cunarder "Aquitania's" three miles of carpet, benefit by her 10,000 electric lights, and 1500 push bells, and are cheered by her 2,000 yards of silk damask wall coverings. Hectic travellers cross the Atlantic in about four days from New York on the Mauretania and marvel at her fame, which has lasted 22 years, and at her record of total mileage which runs into the million.

Canadian Banks Among Leaders In Amount Of Deposits

In a table made by the California Bank, Los Angeles, is found the interesting fact the Bank of Montreal ranks tenth in amount of deposits in a list of 150 of the largest banks of the United States, Great Britain and British Dominions. The rank of the banks in this list is based on the deposit in dollars to the end of the past year.

The five leading banks on the list are located in London, and the next five in New York. The next two are located in Canada. They are the Bank of Montreal, and the Royal Bank of Canada. Down the list to the sixteenth name is found the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The paid up deposits, according to this tabulation, for the largest bank is $1,920,278,206. The Bank of Montreal has a deposit of $733,489,278, and the Royal Bank $703,202,003.

A PERFECT MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets Should Be In Every Home Where

There Are Children

The perfect medicine for little ones is found in Baby's Own Tablets. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up mucus and simple fever and promote healthful and refreshing sleep. It is impossible for Baby's Own Tablets to harm even the new-born babe as they are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates or any other injurious drugs. Concerning them Mrs. Earl Taylor, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"I have four children and have always used Baby's Own Tablets. I am never without the Tablets in the house as they are the best medicine that I know of for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

By means of a secret chemical compound, German vessels made a town completely invisible in six seconds with a smoke cloud 300 feet high and 500 yards square.

There is nothing repellent in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsound stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

It is estimated that British workers spend $150,000,000 yearly in travelling between home and place of employment.

Use Minard's Liniment for the Flu.

The Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, operates under a charter originally granted to it by George II, of England, in 1751.

To Asthma Sufferers. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy comes like a helping hand to a sinking swimmer. It gives new life and hope—something he has come to believe impossible. Its benefit is too evident to be questioned—it is its own argument—its own best advertisement. If you suffer from asthma get this time-tried remedy and find help like thousands of others.

Just so many are doomed to be hit by cars this year. Every time you dodge successfully, you doom somebody else.

Minard's Liniment for the Grippe and Flu.

Indigestion

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude salts. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MARCH 31

THE FUTURE LIFE
(Easter Lesson)

Golden Text: "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life."—Revelation 2:10.

Lesson: Matthew 25:31-46; Mark 12:26, 27; Luke 24:1-12; John 14:1-6; 1 Corinthians 15:3-20, 50-58; 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18; Revelation 22:1-5.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 23:1-6.

Explanations and Conunents

The Resurrection Of Christ, Luke 24:1, 2.—Early on Sunday morning after the crucifixion of Jesus, Mary Magdalene and other women came to the tomb where His body had been laid, to embalm it with the spices they had prepared. All the way they had been worrying about the great stone that blocked the entrance to the tomb. They could not move it, and who would be there to move it for them? But when they came within sight of the tomb, lo, they saw that the stone had been rolled away. Christ had risen. "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" were the words they heard. Was it true? Jesus was not there, but where was he? They were full of fear and full of joy, half fearing and half believing. And then they met him. There he was, the same Jesus, and their fear and doubt vanished. He was risen, even as He said.

We no longer fear what lies beyond the grave. We know that we do not really die, that we pass through death to another life. We know that we shall live again, and in that knowledge we lose our fear and find hope and joy.

"May Easter Day
To thine heart say,
'Christ died and rose for thee.'

"May Easter night
On thine heart write
'O Christ, I live to Thee.'

Time For Everything
Have a time and place for everything, and do everything in its time and place, and you will not only accomplish more, but have more leisure than those who are always hurrying, as if vainly attempting to overtake time that has been lost.

Men hurried to do his bidding. When the stretcher bearers leaned to lift the inanimate body, Hoop-la fiercely interfered. "Let him alone," he said savagely. Stooping, he picked up the light form and bore it down the hill to their bed in the rough log shack. Donald forced a few drops of brandy through the dying man's colourless lips. Blackie stirred feebly. His eyes flickered open and he smiled as he recognized Hoop-la.

"Give me your hand," he whispered faintly; "I'm runnin' my last high-lead, old pal, I guess God'll be good to us rough-necks." He gasped painfully. The irregular breathing ceased; his eyes became fixed and glassy, his jaw sagged.

Hoop-la sat motionless, the hand of his dead friend held in his warm clasp. Slowly his head dropped forward and his big frame shook with dry racking sobs. Doctor Paul came in hurriedly. In answer to the look of interrogation in Donald's eyes, he shook his head sadly.

Donald and Wilkinson tiptoed softly to the door. They were unashamed of the tears that made furrows down their blackened cheeks. Sick at heart, utterly overcome by this tragedy, Wilkinson sank dejectedly to a seat outside the cabin door and covered his face with his hands.

There came a sudden patter of raindrops that drummed on the roof of the cabin. Wilkinson stood erect with arms stretched wide. "Rain!" he cried. "The merciful rain! Thank heaven!" He stood with face upturned for an interval, enjoying the pelting downpour, then turned to look in the cabin door, a deep and brooding sadness in his bloodshot eyes.

"Donald," he said gently, "the newspaper account of this fire will mention the fact that a logger was killed." A logger!—yes—men like Blackie are the backbone of this country, the salt of the earth. Will people ever learn?" he continued, in a voice vibrant with deep emotion. He pointed to the barkless skeletons of trees blackened and charred and branchless save for the gibbet-like limbs stuck out from the naked trunks. "Think of it! All this—the snuffing out of a valuable life—a verdant hillside changed to a charnel-house of dead trees and blackened stumps on bare rocks—the loss of thousands of dollars worth of valuable timber—all this caused by the careless dropping of a lighted cigarette!"

CHAPTER XVII.

Donald's announcement that Labor Day would be celebrated at the Lake was received with good-natured approval by the men of the camp, who spoke of the coming event as the "dry" holiday. The rain, which had brought such blessed relief to the hearts of the guardians of the forest, had cleansed the air of the last vestige of haze that had overhung the valley for the past month.

The morning of the holiday dawned auspiciously. The hot days of August had given place to the mellow sunshine of Indian summer. Through the crystal clear atmosphere the mountains seemed much nearer, standing out sharply against the blue sky. Near the top there had been a fresh fall of snow that had covered the bare ice of the glaciers like a white mantle. The brilliant rays of the September sun were reflected from this virgin covering with a brilliancy that was dazzling to the eye.

Janet arrived for the occasion, bringing with her a score of her friends. All through the previous day the trail from the north had brought strings of cayuses from the Indian Reserve, their dusky riders gaily decked in holiday attire. "Klahowya, tillicum!" they shouted, their coffee-coloured faces lighting up with a grin that betokened a gala day spirit. Their tents dotted the lake-shore, their camp fires glowing cheerfully throughout the night.

The sports committee had arranged a varied list of events. A rowing race between the two camps; a sack race, free for all; a basketball game between the whites and the Indians; a sawing race in which two "buckers" from each camp would participate; a hundred-yard dash; a log-rolling contest between a man of the State of Maine and a citizen of New Brunswick. But these were mere preliminaries to the real event of the day, the much advertised horse-race. The men from the other camps, arrayed in their "Sunday clothes" made their appearance early in the day.

Each camp brought its quota of sandwiches and cakes, but the brunt of the work fell on Andy and his assistants, who piled tier upon tier of sandwiches on the long tables under the willows by the lake-shore. The lemonade was in half-barrels at each end of the tables, with a "help yourself" sign attached.

Old klootchmen, with stolid, sombre faces, etched deep with cross-hatching of wrinkles, walked through the throng laden with baskets they were trying to sell. "Mika takas basket," quavered their aged voices as they held forth their wares.

About eleven o'clock Mr. Wainwright appeared alone.

"Where's Connie?" asked Donald.

"As you are aware, Mr. McLean, Connie is very shy. I could not induce her to accompany me."

"That will never do," said Donald quickly. "I am going after her."

"I am afraid that your trip will avail you nothing," smiled Wainwright in his absent-minded way.

Donald borrowed a cayuse and set off up the trail. He hitched the horse at the edge of the clearing and proceeded on foot down the path, his shoes making no sound on the soft dark earth. As he turned a clump of alders and came in view of the cabin he stopped short, arrested by a sight that evidently elicited his amused interest.

Connie stood outside the door before a small mirror hung on the rough log walls of the house. She was attempting to place her heavy hair in a knot at the top of her head. A page cut from a magazine was tacked to a log near the mirror. She studied the photograph carefully, then returned to the attack with renewed vigour. But she could not get it to suit her. She tried and tried, but the heavy shining coils would elude her slender fingers and fall in a golden cascade over her slight shoulders. Her efforts to reach a satisfactory result brought her to the verge of tears. She stamped her little foot impatiently. At last she got it arranged in a fair semblance to that of the envied actress. The effect was so startling that Donald fairly gasped. The child of the moment was transformed, as if by a fairy's wand, to a woman of wondrous grace and beauty.

Connie perked her head saucily, then half smiled to show her small milk-white teeth; apparently she was pleased with the reflection she saw in the glass. From the clothes-line she took a flour sack that had been split open and washed to be used for drying dishes. Draping this from her waist line, she pinned it securely. Assuming a haughty pose, she walked past the mirror with a sinuous, undulating movement. The little artist was so perfect in her mimicry that Donald's lips involuntarily formed the word "Janet." Twice she passed before the tiny mirror with a regal step, her head turning with its characteristic bird-like motion to catch the reflection.

"My skin trouble started with pimples and red blotches that affected my face, neck, hands and head. The pimples were hard, large and red, and festered and scaled over, causing disfigurement. They also caused severe itching and burning, and I could not sleep at night with the pain. The trouble lasted about two months."

"I tried several other remedies which did not give me any relief. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me after a few applications, and in two weeks I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Muriel Gibson, Huggett, Alberta.

Gradually the queenly pose slipped from her. She stopped abruptly, throwing out her arms with a forlorn gesture. Her golden head fell forward. Two big tears welled from her blue eyes and ran down the small freckled nose. Her small hands plucked convulsively at her faded blue overalls. A sob like a stab pain shook her slender body. One arm came up slowly to cover her tearful face as she threw herself face forward on the grass. Her slender shoulders were shaking with such an agony of weeping that Donald's throat felt constricted and his eyes grew suddenly dim.

Her spotted cayuse, grazing nearby, raised his head at the sound of Connie's hysterical sobbing and moved to the small figure of his mistress. With ears bent forward and a look of bewilderment in his soft eyes, he nuzzled her neck with his velvety nose. The sobbing continued, but her brown hand came up to pat his head lovingly.

Donald tiptoed softly back to the trail. He stood for some time with his hand on the saddle, his head bowed in deep thought. "Poor little kid," he said gently, then whistling a lively tune, he slowly retraced his steps to the cabin. He entered the clearing just in time to see Connie as she disappeared in the timber across the field. He did not want her to know that he was aware of her flight, so he knocked loudly on the door and shouted her name. A raven croaked derisively from the top of a dead tree. The pony raised his head to eye him silently. Connie's pet deer came around the corner of the barn, a look of gentle questioning in her beautiful big eyes.

Donald rode slowly back to camp. Connie's distress had touched his heart; her heart-breaking sobs were still ringing in his ears. "It is not that Wainwright does not love his daughter," mused Donald. "It must be that he is very poor."

"Don't see how I can help," his thoughts ran on. "One can't very well suggest to a father that he buy clothes for his child."

Andy rang the lunch-bell, and there was a wild but good-natured scramble for the tables.

A long table had been arranged in the big dining-room for the officials and Janet's party to which Donald had invited Mr. Wainwright.

"Did you find Connie?" queried Wainwright.

"No," lied Donald, "I couldn't find her."

Janet's friends were having a merry time. There was laughter, jesting and gay repartee from all sides. Douglas was in his element, his quips and brilliant sallies keeping the diners in a continual uproar.

As Donald glanced around the big table at the laughing faces of the gay party, he tried to visualize Connie dressed as one of these fashionably-clad girls who represented Vancouver's "younger set." The vision he conjured caused him to smile dreamily.

Janet had manoeuvred to secure a seat beside Donald. In spite of all her artful contriving, she had been unable to have more than a few words with her father's busy general superintendent since her arrival. She noticed the dreamy smile on his face and wondered what could be the cause.

"You seem rather distraught," she said with an arch smile, her dark eyes fixed on his face. "Aren't you enjoying yourself?"

WINDOLITE

*The Improved
Glass Substitute*

MADE IN ENGLAND

WINDOLITE stands for 100 per cent. sunlight. It makes light but strong windows for cattle sheds, dairy stables, poultry houses, brooders and all out buildings. It is economical, unbreakable, flexible and is easy to cut and fit. It is now being successfully used for sunrooms, verandas, schools, factories, hospitals, sanitariums, hot beds, plant coverings and greenhouses. It keeps out cold—will not crack or chip—cuts with an ordinary pair of scissors and is easy to fit. WINDOLITE is supplied in rolls any length but in one width of 36 inches only. A square yard of WINDOLITE weighs about 14 lbs., while a square yard of glass of ordinary thickness, weighs about 135 to 150 lbs. The improved WINDOLITE requires no varnish. WINDOLITE is made in England.

COMES WITH A MESSAGE OF HEALTH

THE sun is the all-powerful life producer, Nature's universal disinfectant and germ destroyer, as well as stimulant and tonic. WINDOLITE is the sun's most important ally.

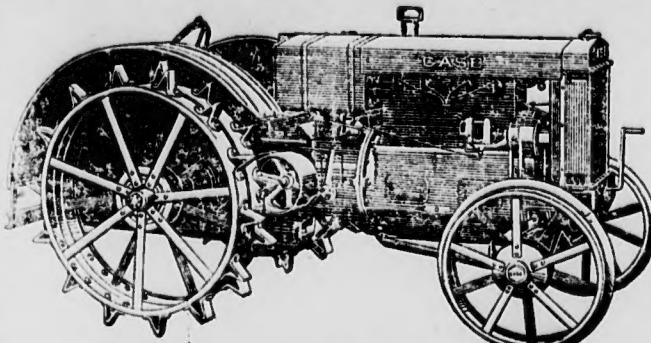

Medical research has definitely proved that from the point of view of Health and Hygiene, the most effective among the sun's rays are the Ultra-Violet rays, which possess the greatest power for the prevention and cure of disease and debility.

Science has further established that ordinary window glass does not allow the passage of Ultra-Violet rays, so that by using glass we are artificially excluding these vital health-giving rays. Therefore, the invention of WINDOLITE has completely satisfied the long-felt want. Exhaustive experiments have conclusively proved that it is a most effective substitute for glass, that it freely admits the Ultra-Violet rays, and that its use has a most beneficial effect on the growth and development of plants and chickens and on the well-being of cattle, enabled for the first time to have healthy light instead of darkness in their sheds.

Indeed, the discovery of WINDOLITE has during the last six years completely revolutionized gardening, given a new stimulus to poultry breeding, increasing the egg-laying capacity and fertility of chickens, has greatly improved the health of cattle and is now being used in domestic and household requirements.

CARE OF BABY CHICKS

coal in hoppers before them. Feed a baby chick food of 50 per cent fine oatmeal or a well-mixed commercial chick food. Hopper feeding is a sanitary poultry practise and is especially valuable in preventing disease. Feed chicks what they can consume in 15 or 20 minutes, then remove what is left; feed four or five times a day. Chicks grow when they are consuming the maximum of feed and they will do this only when they are hungry between feedings. Feed all the grain in a little clover or straw. Green feed should be given at noon; lettuce or chopped dandelions are very good. A good thing is to give the chicks a warm mash at noon of equal parts of shorts, crushed oats, Victory meal and cornmeal, a pinch of salt and pepper to flavor. Also mix with same your clean table scraps.

Cod liver oil is essential during cold weather or dull days; it develops bone, muscle, plumage and keeps the chicks supplied with the necessary vitamins. For chicks up to one month, use one ounce in 10 pounds of dry mash; for older chicks and hens, two ounces in 10 pounds of dry mash.

Water dishes or founts should be washed every day. Keep chicks warm and dry, change the litter often, especially if you have a large number together. Protect chicks from colds and draughts.
